Affiniti Golf Partners Announces Two New Courses

ALPHARETTA, Ga. – May 18, 2009 – Affiniti Golf Partners has announced the addition of two new courses located in Mount Pleasant, South Carolina. RiverTowne Country Club and Patriots Point Links, formally owned by Ginn Resorts, will now be managed by Affiniti Golf Partners.

Affiniti welcomes these two courses in addition to six other courses they manage in both Georgia and South Carolina.

Located in Mt. Pleasant and with views of the harbor and low country marshes, the clubs are two of South Carolina's finest championship golf courses.

RiverTowne, designed by Arnold Palmer, is positioned among beautiful South Carolinian marshes and framed with beautiful native grasses. Named South Carolina Course of the Year by the National Golf Course Owners Association in 2004, this club offers exceptional course quality and management. In 2008, it hosted the Ginn Tribute LPGA Tour event.

Patriots Point Links, designed by Willard Byrd, sits on a peninsula leading into Charleston Harbor. This memorable course offers amazing views, some of which include Fort Sumter and other picturesque scenes of the Lowcountry. The course welcomes players of all skill levels with four sets of tees on each hole and offers the "Best Par-3 in the Lowcountry." The facilities include a club house, lighted driving range, and large events tent that overlooks the golf course and bay.
